DONUTS FOR DONUTS

- Once upon a time there was a mum with her two children, Ben and Molly. Mum was saying donut for breakfast, donut for lunch, donut for tea and donut for dinner. One day she bought a machine. The machine could make donuts. The kids went to the school and their mum wanted to make donuts with her machine. The machine started to make donuts. It made and made. The machine didn't stop. The house stuffed donuts. Then the donuts went out and the people came out to gather the donuts. Now all the world is stuffing donuts.
